Description
There general statement mentioned in the section about command-line interface: "The same command line options as in the Java products are available in the Saxon/C command line tool. Please see the relevant sections of the Saxon 9.9 documentation for details:" Perhaps it could go in the Limitations section here? http://www.saxonica.com/saxon-c/documentation/index.html#!technical

Instead of referencing back to the Java command-line options it is better to list the option under Saxon/C that do apply.
